

Additional Resources to Continue Increasing Alcohol Taxes

Alcohol Policy Information System by the National Institutes of Health – National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism. Published in 2002-2003

<http://alcoholpolicy.niaaa.nih.gov/>

Alcohol Taxation in the Western Pacific Region. Prepared for the World Health Organization Regional Office for the Western Pacific by Centre for Social and Health Outcomes Research and Evaluation.

Published in August 2006

http://www.whariki.ac.nz/massey/fms/Colleges/College%20of%20Humanities%20and%20Social%20Sciences/Shore/reports/Taxation%2013_9_06.pdf

This paper provides many examples of the impact that changes alcohol tax rates can have on alcohol consumption and on alcohol related harm.

Policy Options

Pages 19-20: Key points to consider when establishing an alcohol tax system.

http://www.whariki.ac.nz/massey/fms/Colleges/College%20of%20Humanities%20and%20Social%20Sciences/Shore/reports/Taxation%2013_9_06.pdf#page=19

Effectiveness and Cost-Effectiveness of Policies and Programmes to Reduce the Harm Caused by Alcohol by The Lancet. Published in 2009.

http://www.who.int/choice/publications/p_2009_CE_Alcohol_Lancet.pdf

This paper reviews the evidence for the effectiveness and cost-effectiveness of policies and programmes to reduce the harm caused by alcohol, in the areas of education and information, the health sector, community action, driving while under the influence of alcohol (drink-driving), availability, marketing, pricing, harm reduction, and illegally and informally produced alcohol.

http://www.who.int/choice/publications/p_2009_CE_Alcohol_Lancet.pdf

